

22nd September 2022

To whom it may concern

Dear Sir/ Madam,

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION FOR MS. ESTHER AYIKPA

I write to recommend Ms Esther Ayikpa, for a position in your prestigious institution. I have known Esther professionally in the capacity as her senior colleague and acting in charge of the labour ward at the Obstetric Department of the Korle Bu Teaching Hospital, Ghana for three years. I am confident that her exceptional skills, professional experience and personal skills will be invaluable to your institution.

Esther is a hardworking and enthusiastic midwife who is committed to patient care. She is a sincere, empathetic, assertive and reliable midwife. Esther also has excellent written and verbal communication skills. She is proactive and decisive in handling problems on the ward. Her ability to manage obstetric emergencies promptly with professionalism cannot be overstated. On several occasions, Esther demonstrated her competencies in caring for pregnant women with obstetric emergencies. For instance, Esther promptly managed a patient with a postpartum haemorrhage while arranging for transfer to the Emergency labour ward for further management. Her ability to promptly identify the risk and her immediate management of the condition helped save the patient life. However, she is sometimes overly critical of herself because she seeks to achieve the best for her patients and herself.

Overall, Esther Ayikpa is a self-motivated, proactive and excellent communicator who has an exceptional capacity to grasp new ideas quickly. I have no doubt whatsoever in her ability to perform exceptionally in your institution. For further information regarding this recommendation, you can contact me through my email address catherine.dwumfour@knust.edu.gh or my mobile number 0277866133.

Yours sincerely,

Catherine Kroamah Dwumfour (Miss)

Assistant Lecturer

Department of Nursing

Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology, Ghana.